Seneca Companies Denver branch personnel changes

(DES MOINES, IA – August 3, 2022) – Seneca Companies has named Mike Worthington as a new branch manager for the Denver branch.

“Mike has been through and seen substantial growth at Seneca. He’s also been a major contributor to that growth and certainly our success. I am excited for what Mike brings to the table as the branch manager in Denver and at the helm of our expansion into Utah and Idaho,” said Darren Binning, VP of Fuel Systems.

Worthington has been with Seneca for thirty one years, stationed at the Des Moines headquarters location. He transitions to a Denver branch manager role after previously holding a general contracting management role.

“I am very excited for the opportunity to work with our team in Denver, and to build upon what they have already accomplished. I also look forward to begin expanding Seneca’s footprint further west to capitalize on multiple opportunities in those regions,” said Mike Worthington.
