Seneca Companies names Director of Business Development - EV Solutions

(DES MOINES, IA – May 11, 2022) – Seneca Companies has named Russ Gibson as Director of Business Development - EV Solutions.

“With the world ever evolving in the e-mobility and alternative fueling space, Seneca Companies has decided to put our money where our mouth is and promote Russ Gibson to become our Director of Business Development – EV Solutions. We’re very excited for Russ to be taking on this role and believe we’re positioned to help all of our customers with their EV and alternative fueling needs. Russ has a storied background of business development and customer relations that will prove to be a huge asset for Seneca in continuing to develop our e-mobility efforts,” said Todd Clubb, Commercial Division Manager.

In his role as Director of Business Development – EV Solutions, Gibson will be Seneca’s contact point and conduit of communications between EV charging station manufacturers, Seneca’s field team and customers. Representing six of the world’s top manufacturers of EV charging stations, Seneca Companies is providing product sales, installation and service for customers regardless of their size or scope of their project. From 7kW Level 2 chargers to 360kW DC fast chargers, Gibson and the Seneca team will be focused on providing our customers with outstanding service and solutions.

“As a proud member of Seneca Companies’ ‘Complete Solution’ family, I am excited about the opportunity to extend our reach as our customer’s ‘Complete EV Solution’ as well. In this rapidly expanding aspect of our nation’s fueling industry, I welcome the opportunity to take charge of this electrifying new role,” said Russ Gibson.
